PROFESSIONAL INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERS
PIE Level 1: Guidelines

The PIE Level 1 guidelines shall take effect in January 2026.

Professional Industrial Engineers (PIE) is a professional designation given by the Philippine Institute of Industrial Engineers (PIIE) through its Industrial Engineering Certification Board (IECB) in the Philippines. It recognizes experienced industrial engineers who have demonstrated advanced competence and professional practice beyond entry-level standards.

What is PIE?

PIE (Professional Industrial Engineer) is the PIE Level 1 certification in the industrial engineering profession under the PIIE & IECB certification program. It is awarded to seasoned practitioners who have substantial industrial engineering experience and have met specific professional criteria set by the certifying body.

Purpose of the PIE Designation

The PIE credential is intended to:

- Recognize professional expertise in industrial engineering practice.
- Distinguish experienced practitioners who can handle complex industrial systems and methodologies.
- Promote excellence and credibility in the field among employers, clients, and peers.

Main Requirements for PIE

While specific processes may vary slightly over time, general requirements typically include:

- Active membership in the Philippine Institute of Industrial Engineers (PIIE).
- Significant industrial engineering work experience, usually around 7 years or more in IE-related roles.
- Documentation of major work experience in the profession (e.g., portfolio or testimonials).
- The points-based assessment, endorsements, and application forms are required.

Once approved, the individual earns the PIE designation, which typically requires renewal every three years.

Role and Responsibilities of a PIE

A Professional Industrial Engineer is expected to:

- Apply and develop advanced industrial engineering methods to analyze, design, evaluate, and improve systems.
- Address complex problems in manufacturing, operations, quality, ergonomics, supply chain, and other IE specialization areas.
- Serve as a leader and expert in operational excellence across industry and academia.

Relation to Other Credentials

PIE is not a Philippine government license like the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) board exams. Rather, it's a professional certification endorsed by a major engineering organization in the country (PIIE) and recognized within professional and industry circles.
